It was very satisfying and comfortable experience working with Mobile Reality on creating the prototype of highly specialized user's identifying system based on QR codes.

To me, as a Product Manager, the understanding, expertise, and communication of the Mobile Reality team is on a top level. What I especially value about working with them is that they bring many useful ideas and suggestions to the table allowing us to stay focus and deliver products genuinely tailored to the end user, faster than ever. Their excellent knowledge about:

- UI and graphics designing,
- mobile software development,
- web software development,
- hardware development,

allowed us to create the system that we expected.

Mobile Reality would be a valuable partner for every company working with them, and I have no hesitation in recommending them highly.

Sincerely,
Justyna Sznajder,
Product Manager
